

School of Engineering and Computing Sciences News

Mar 23 2015

IEEE OW earned a spot at the 2014-2015 VEX World Competition

On February 28, 2015, NYIT OW IEEE Student Branch attended the 2014-2015 Vaughn University Regional Qualifier with three individual teams. They competed against Vaughn University and their two teams as well. As NYIT progressed through the competition they finished in first place overall and headed into the playoffs as the overall number 1 seed. NYIT team won the Excellence Award and has earned its spot at the 2014-2015 VEX World Competition which will be taking place in Louisville, Kentucky on April 15-18th. NYIT OW looks forward to representing at the World Competition and trying to take home 1st place this year!

© 2016 New York Institute of Technology